KLEIN AFTER THE END

A WORD ABOUT THIS ISSUE.

This final issue of PROMETHEA has several notable differences from previous ones. First off, a number of pages are upside down, we know. Secondly, the story is constructed so you can read it from front to back, yes, even the upside down pages, or it can be "unfolded" into a giant double-sided poster and read in a completely different order. Since this is a comic book that has been cut at the printer we had to cheat a little–you can't actually unfold the book but you can carefully pull it apart and, using the numbers on each page as a guide (it will be four tiers of four pages), tape it all together to form the poster. Additionally, once the poster is completed, you will see two lovely images of Promethea only visible in this form.

WELL, MY LOVES, WE'RE AT THE END AT THE DEATH, IF YOU LIKE...ALTHOUGH LIKE DEATH, THERE'S PLENTY MORE SURPRISES ON THE OTHER SIDE.
BUT WHILE WE'RE HERE AND ALIVE, LET'S BE GLAD.
LET'S CELEBRATE.
Einstein's Spacetime is a timeless four-dimensional solid, containing every instant simultaneously, forever...including our lives. DEATH, therefore, is a perspective illusion of the third dimension. Don't worry.
A funeral CELEBRATION, or WAKE, dominates James Joyce's FINNEGANS WAKE, in which all human experience is distilled into one timeless day. Cheers!

AFTER ALL, WE'VE PLENTY WORTH CELEBRATING DESPITE ALL THE WORLD'S CARNAGE
THE SILVER OF OUR IMAGINATION. THE SOUL'S GOLD...
...THE WONDER OF OUR PERCEPTIONS, ARRANGING THIS RANDOM SWIRL OF PARTICLES ABOUT US INTO A REALITY.
Modern science acknowledges, with the mystics, that there are other REALITIES beyond our conventional human construct.
essentially, is a field of INFORMATION, through which all of us perceiving entities roam as what physicist Murray Gell-Man called "information Gathering and Utilizing Systems," or IGUSs. (Unless that means "it's God, Understanding Something.")

TAROT PATH: THE LOVERS.

ANIMALS: MAGPIE, ALL HYBRIDS.
HERE, ON THE OTHER SIDE... IF FICTION IS REALITY'S FLIP-SIDE... LET'S CELEBRATE IMAGINATION.
LIKE PERCEPTION OR REALITY, IMAGINATION IS FLEXIBLE. CAN SUDDENLY INVERT ITSELF CARTWHEELING GLORIOUSLY FROM ONE CONCEPT TO THE NEXT.
IMAGINATION CAN DO ANYTHING.

intelligence is not based upon the number of the brain's neurons, but how many CONNECTIONS we forge between them, linking one concept, one neuron with another, in a shimmering, self-aware neural net.
The number of potential neural connections in the human brain exceeds the number of particles in the known universe.

ANIMAL: UNICORN.
AN ANGEL SOMERSAULTING THROUGH OUR CONSCIOUSNESS, IMAGINATION DERIVES FROM IMAGE, A COLORFUL FORM UNFOLDING MENTALLY.
IMAGE HAS THE SAME ROOT WORD AS IMAGO, AN ADULT INSECT.
WHICH BRINGS ME TO THE MATTER OF MY NAME.
Both angels and imaginative thoughts, being phenomena not reliably repeatable under laboratory conditions, are equally outside the province of empirical science.
Consciousness, unprovable by scientific standards, is forever, then, the impossible phantom in the predictable biologic machine; and your every thought a genuine supernatural event. Your every thought is a ghost, dancing.

"PROMETHEA."
AN IMAGINARY FICTIONAL CHARACTER WHO MANIFESTS IN REALITY THROUGH THE ARTISTS AND WRITERS THAT TELL HER STORY.
OBVIOUSLY, THE NAME'S A FEMININE VERSION OF PROMETHEUS, WHICH MEANS "FORETHOUGHT"... WHICH MEANS "IMAGINATION."
SO THAT'S APPROPRIATE.
Promethea is also a title character in The Book of Promethea by Helene Cixous, where she is "a heroine of infinity" summoned from the writer's imagination. The current authors were unaware of this work when creating their comic-book incarnation.
Saturniidae Callosamia promethea is also the name of a species of moth.

IMAGINATION...TUMBLING, SPINNING...IS THE LIGHT THAT GUIDES HUMANITY INTO THE FUTURE.
THE HEAVEN-STOLEN LIGHT OF PROMETHEUS GAVE MAN A BRIGHT, FORBIDDEN KNOWLEDGE, SNAKE-GRANTED IN EDEN.

The only reality we can conceivably know is that of our perceptions, our own consciousness, while that consciousness, and thus our entire reality, is made of nothing but signs and symbols. Nothing but language.
Even God requires language before conceiving the Universe. See Genesis: "In the beginning was the Word."

REPRESENTING THINGS WITH SOUNDS OR MARKS, AS WITH ART AND LANGUAGE, WAS A HANDSPRING IN CONSCIOUSNESS ALLOWING US WONDERFUL NEW ABILITIES.
WE DIDN'T CALL IT ART, LANGUAGE OR CONSCIOUSNESS BACK THEN IT WAS ALL MAGIC.

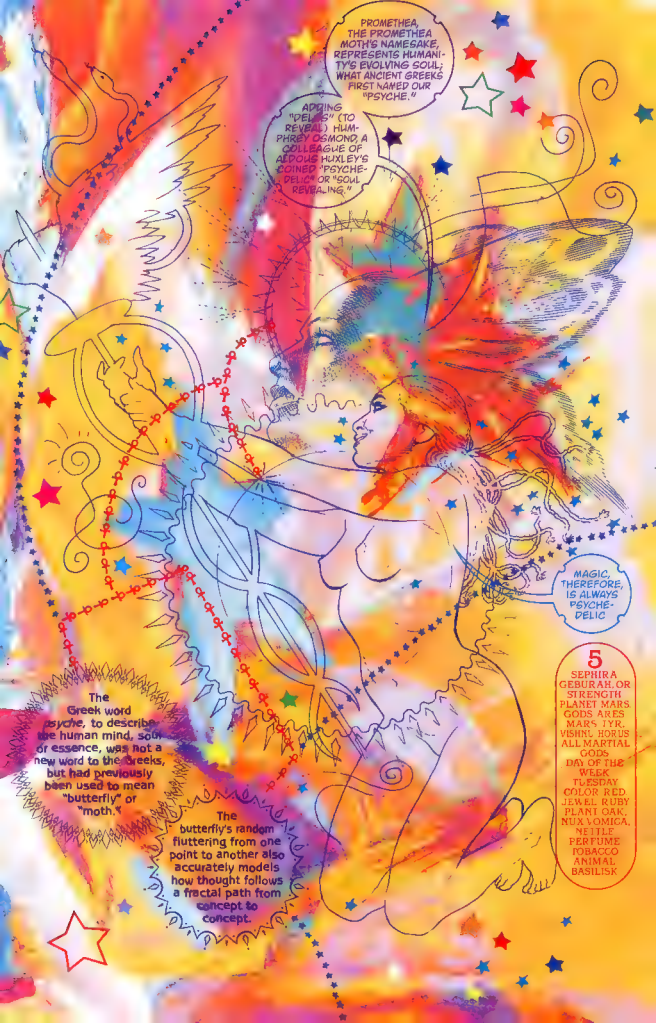
Consciousness, art, language and magic (known as "The Art") share a vocabulary: poetry uses invocation and evocation, as does sorcery. Casting spells is simply spelling, while the Black Book, or grimoire, is merely a Grammar
Magician Aleister Crowley (1875–1947) famously described magic as "a disease of language"



PROMETHEA, THE PROMETHEA MOTH'S NAMESAKE, REPRESENTS HUMANITY'S EVOLVING SOUL; WHAT ANCIENT GREEKS FIRST NAMED OUR "PSYCHE."

The Greek word psyche, to describe the human mind, soul or essence, was not a new word to the Greeks, but had previously been used to mean "butterfly" or "moth."
The butterfly's random fluttering from one point to another also accurately models how thought follows a fractal path from concept to concept.

Theorist Julian Jaynes has suggested that even our own minds, voices inside our heads, would seem like supernatural visitations to people with no concept of consciousness.

In human terms, the snake or phallus symbolizes the Will, whilst the Moon represents our female, receptive imagination. Thus creativity results from union between Will and Imagination.
In cosmological terms, some Quantum cosmologists suggest that the best description of the Universe's initial inflation or explosion is "Chokmah-Binah", the same reproductive union.

Jung's theories, viewed by mentor Sigmund Freud as dangerously close to Occultism, suggested gods were archetypes recurring throughout the Mass Unconscious, another kind of Immateria.
According to Robert Anton Wilson, on one day in the 1920s, Aleister Crowley, Albert Einstein, and James Joyce were all in Carl Jung's Vienna and could (conceivably) have met.

SNAKES, ACCORDING TO ROBERT GRAVES, ARE ASSOCIATED WITH THE SPERM-SHAPED PSILOCYBIN MUSHROOM, ONE OF SHAMANISM'S EARLIEST PSYCHEDELIC TOOLS

CLAUDIO MONTEVERDI 1567
Opera, as developed by practicing alchemists, such as Monteverdi, attempted to magically alter consciousness by incorporating music, words, costume and dance to similarly overwhelm the senses.
Sharing the same Latin root as "ligature", "religion" means "tied together in one belief," not necessarily spiritual. Scientific and political dogmas, therefore, are also technically religions.

Troubled by consciousness, Science regards Mind as an hallucination of our nervous system, of biology, solidly founded on chemistry and, ultimately, hard physics.
However, as Harold Morowitz states in Rediscovering the Mind, physics rests upon quantum mechanics, which Werner Heisenberg asserted as inseparable from the influence of the observing human mind.
SCIENCE, HOWEVER, DESPITE HAVING EVOLVED FROM ALCHEMY IS BASED UPON RELIABLY REPEATABLE PHENOMENA, AND THEREFORE CANNOT DISCUSS EVEN EVERYDAY CONSCIOUSNESS...
...MUCH LESS THE EXPLODING PSYCHEDELIC EXPERIENCE OF MAGIC, OF OUR HUMAN PSYCHE, OF OUR SOUL.

CONSCIOUSNESS, EVEN AT THESE ECSTATIC EXTREMES, ARISES FROM LANGUAGE, AS DO RELIGION AND TECHNOLOGY (MEANING SIMPLY "WRITINGS ABOUT A BODY OF KNOWLEDGE")

NOT THE DRAWINGS

That certain arrangements of words affect consciousness is evident in Douglas Hofstadter's essay on nonsense poetry in Metamagical Themas; the drug-influenced lyrics of the mid-1960s; and Alchemy's concept of altering consciousness using a poetic "Language of the Birds."

CONSCIOUSNESS, ART AND LANGUAGE HAPPEN WHEN MORTAL ORGANISMS CONNECT WITH IMMATERIAL FANCIES, WHEN EARTHLY LIFE'S DNA SERPENT DANCES WITH IMAGINATION'S LUNAR SPIRIT.

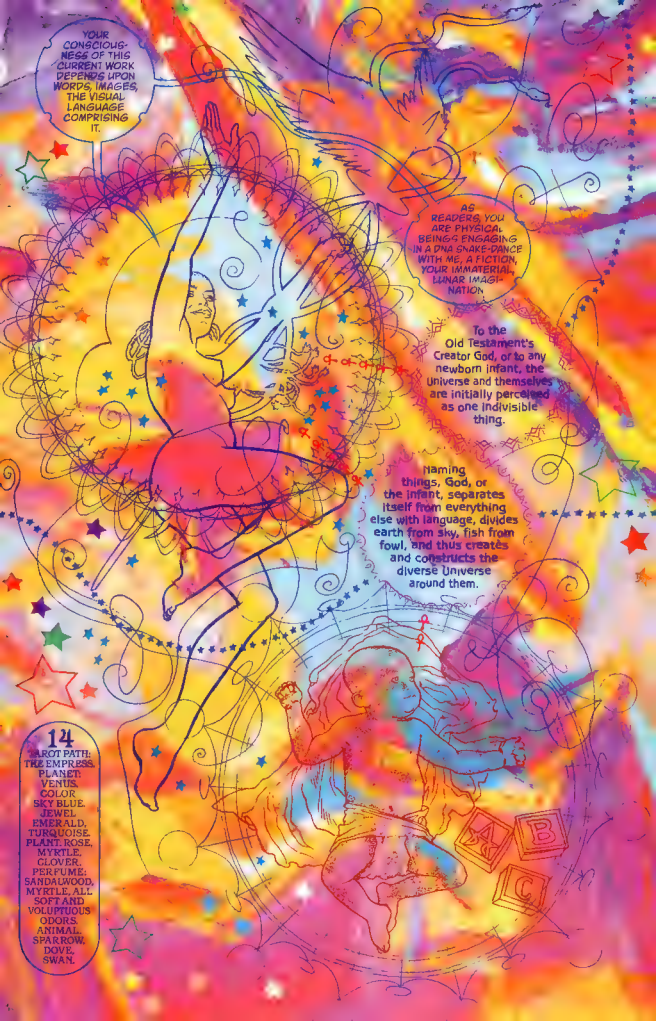
Creative union between animal male forces and lunar female energies seems universal animalistic Pan rapes lunar Selene; Crowley's lunar whore/mother-goddess Babalon straddles a "Great Beast," sometimes called "that old serpent."
Even Catholic iconography sometimes portrays the Madonna before a crescent moon, a serpent beneath her feet, symbolizing the immaculate conception.



YOUR CONSCIOUSNESS OF THIS CURRENT WORK DEPENDS UPON WORDS, IMAGES, THE VISUAL LANGUAGE COMPRISING IT.
AS READERS, YOU ARE PHYSICAL BEINGS ENGAGING IN A DNA SNAKE-DANCE WITH ME, A FICTION, YOUR IMMATERIAL, LUNAR IMAGINATION.
To the Old Testament's Creator God, or to any newborn infant, the Universe and themselves are initially perceived as one indivisible thing.
Naming things, God, or the infant, separates itself from everything else with language, divides earth from sky, fish from fowl, and thus creates and constructs the diverse Universe around them.

Pentagon studies in the 1980s demonstrated that comic strip narrative is still the best way of conveying understandable and retainable information.
Words being the currency of our verbal "left brain" and images that of our pre-verbal "right" brain, perhaps comic strip reading prompts both halves to work in unison?

WE CREATED FANTASIES THEN STRUGGLED TO REALIZE THEM. EVERYTHING AROUND YOU RIGHT NOW ORIGINATED IN SOMEONE'S MIND
CREATING GODS, GODDESSES, HEROES AND HEROINES, WE TRIED TO BECOME LIKE THEM, EXTENDING OURSELVES THROUGH SHEER IMAGINATION.
If gods are transcendent ideas, then the idea of a god IS a god. Divine images attempted to raise human consciousness using the power of art.
Classical god-statues were intended for meditation purposes rather than worship, so that by understanding a god's qualities, we might reproduce them more fully in ourselves.

Visionary Emanuel Swedenborg stated, "Angels know nothing of Time." The solar consciousness of Tiphereth is eternal, like Einstein's Space-time, or Joyce's eternity-embracing single day.
Both lunar and serpentine, Promethea represents those fertile forces coupling within us, whereby we partheno-genetically conceive and birth the shining, redeeming child of our own sacred Will.
